A Note from the NDCDA President ...

Well I think we are finally on our way to summer. Late cold temperatures and late snowfall seemed to make it feel like spring was never going to come. I hope everyone's planting is going well and the rains come soon.

The NDCDA Board of Directors met recently and have set the date for the Annual Summer Meeting. We have some great topics on the agenda. The topics that were selected by the board members were topics that came from the Managers' meeting earlier this spring. The topics are patronage, stock management, and taxes. One other topic that we thought would be good for all cooperatives is from the ND Department of Labor: "Hot Topics: Common Issues and Claims, How They Can Be Prevented." The Summer Meeting is a time for Cooperative Directors to network with other Directors across the state and is an educational opportunity for every cooperative. The North Dakota CHS Directors are also invited to attend.

Remember to mark your calendars for the upcoming CHS Owner Forums. Come hear a business update, ask questions, learn about trends, participate in a workshop and share your thoughts about working together for long-term success. Please share this invitation with your board and consider inviting young women and men who farm in your community to accompany you. Registration is now open. To reserve your spot and meal, please register two weeks in advance.

Both these events can be found on the NDCDA website <http://www.ndfu.org/4866-2/north-dakota-cooperative-directors-association/>. Make sure your cooperative is listed under the Current Members tab.
